IMPORTANT NOTICE

The reports presented herein are prepared solely for the confidential use of our subscribers. They are based on information received from the companies themselves, usually in the form of the annual report presented to stockholders or policyholders, or the statements presented to the regulatory bodies having jurisdiction in the various countries of the world. These statements are presented in accordance with the custom or regulatory requirements of the country of domicile and there are significant variations in the method of reporting from one country to another. These differences are not only in the accounting principles used but in the valuation of assets and liabilities and the treatment of taxes.

The information received varies from elaborate assemblies of data to those presenting abbreviated balance sheet and income statement data. The source of our information is shown in each individual report.

Frequently, these reports also reflect supplemental information obtained by us, such as data supplied in response to our questionnaires, data contained in examination reports, audited reports prepared by certified public accountants, reports prepared by outside accounting firms or individuals, as well as reports prepared by internal staff accountants.

The information is usually received in the currency of the country where the company is headquartered, (our reports are presented in that currency as well as US dollars) and may represent a variety of reporting dates, i.e. the fiscal year may be dependent on corporate desires, traditional reporting time frames or regulatory requirements.

While the information obtained from these sources is believed to be reliable, its accuracy is not guaranteed. We do submit the data to a rigorous computerized cross-checking routine to verify its arithmetic accuracy. We do not, however, audit the companies' financial statements and therefore cannot attest as to the accuracy of the information provided to us. Consequently, no representations or warranties are made or given as to the accuracy or completeness of the information presented herein.

At the present time, BEST'S RATINGS are not assigned as part of our reports on any companies or groups contained in the International Edition. Inclusion in our International Reports does not imply in any way our recommendation of the character or qualities of a company, nor constitute a warranty of an insurer's current or future ability to meet its contractual obligations, but rather simply portrays our continuing desire to eventually include all insurance companies actively engaged in the insurance business that are domiciled outside of the United States and its territories.
