The Horticultural Research Institute is a non-profit organization devoted exclusively to the support and conduct of research necessary for the advancement of the nursery industry. Its main function is the collection of research information and the dissemination of that information to the nursery industry, educators, scientists, extension personnel and interested public. Financial investment in the work of HRI is a tax-deductible business expense so long as the contributor stands to benefit from HRI's work. Support levels for individuals and business firms begin at $200 per year. Association support begins at $300. For more information or to make an investment, contact HRI, 1250 1 Street, N.W., Suite 500, Washington, D.C. 20005.
